~~The Viral Network: A Pathography of the H1N1 Influenza~~ ...

The Viral Network: A Pathography of the H1N1 Influenza Pandemic takes a pathographic approach to understanding the 2009 H1N1 pandemic; that is, characterizing how geography, culture, politics, history, and the biology of the virus itself affected the way global public health authorities responded.

~~Viral Network: A Pathography of the H1N1 Influenza~~ ...

"The Viral Network is an insightful ethnography of various social worlds that assemble under the banner of influenza research and global public health. It is an ambitious and innovative work that enacts a number of novel ways of conceiving and doing anthropology: as pathography, as viral ethnography, and as anthropology of information.
